Colorado Ski Safety Act

The Colorado legislature, recognizing risks are inherent in the sport, has passed the Colorado Ski Safety Act which provides inherent risks of the sport and relative responsibilities of the skier and the ski area. You must obey the act. Under the act, any person using the facilities of a ski area is considered a skier. A summary of the inherent risks is listed helow-

WARNING Under Colorado law a skier assumes the risk of any injury to person or property resulting from any of the inherent dangers and risks of skiing and may not recover from any ski area operator for any injury resulting from any of the inherent dangers and risks of skiing, including; changing weather conditions; bare spots; rocks; stumps; trees; collisions with natural objects, man-made objects, or other skiers; variations in terrain; failure of skiers to ski within their own abilities; as well as cliffs, extreme terrain, jumps and freestyle terrain.

- Extreme Terrain contains cliffs, very steep slopes as well as rocks and other hazards. Skiing or boarding Extreme Terrain is for EXPERTS ONLY.

Freestyle terrain areas are designated with an orange oval and may contain jumps, hits, ramps, banks, fun boxes, jibs, rails, half pipes, quarter pipes, snowcross, bump terrain and other constructed or natural terrain features. Prior to using freestyle terrain, you are responsible for familiarizing yourself with freestyle terrain and obeying all instructions, warnings and signs. Freestyle skills require maintaining control on the ground and in the air. Use of freestyle terrain exposes you to the risk of serious injury or death. Inverted aerials are not recommended. You assume

Ski Area Brning

WARNING. FOR YOUR PROTECTION. Pursuant to the Colorado Ski Safety Act, Telluride Ski Resort assumes no responsibility for the safety and welfare of skiers going beyond the ski area boundary. Areas beyond the ski area boundary are not patrolled or maintained. Avalanche danger and other hazards exist. You are solely responsible for vour safety and welfare. Rescue in the backcountry, if available, will be costly and may take time.

Individuals may only access US Forest Service land from designated backcountry access points through gates that are located and managed at the discretion of the USFS. Location of the access gates may change at any time. Once a skier exits the ski area boundary, the ski area and its ski patrol have no duty to provide care and rescue services to anyone. Persons using the backcountry access gates assume any and all risks and dangers associated with backcountry access, including serious bodily injury and/or death. Violation of boundary policy will result in loss of skiing privileges and removal from the ski resort.

Lift Safety. Be advised, a person cannot board a lift CAUTION – Deep snow or tree wells can expose you to unless they have sufficient physical dexterity, ability and the risk of snow immersion injuries or fatalities. Educate knowledge to use such lift safely, or until that person as asked for and received sufficient information to use the lift safely. No person may use a lift or any ski trail when under the influence of drugs or alcohol.

Slow Zones. Certain areas (indicated in yellow on the posted slow areas by maintaining a speed no faster skiing will not be tolerated and may result in removal from the ski resort
